DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF OF STAFF
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20310

9 MAR 1982

Admiral Bobby R. Inman
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
CIA Headquarters
Langley, Virginia 20505

Dear Admiral Inman:

The United States Army Intelligence Center and School (USAICS) will host an Intelligence and Electronic Warfare Systems Program Review (IEWSPR) at Fort Huachuca, AZ. The tentative dates for this review are 5-7 October 1982. Fifty to sixty general officers and equivalents from throughout the Army, together with representatives from the other services and various government agencies, will attend.

The purpose of the IEWSPR will be to review the Army's capabilities, in conjunction with other services, to provide intelligence support to the AirLand Battle. This will be reviewed both in the short term, 1983, and in the long term, out to 1990. We are currently in the process of selecting key issues and general officer panel membership. When these selections are made, the general officer panels will meet throughout the year to examine the issues, arrive at findings, and prepare recommendations. Their findings and recommendations will be the focal point of the review.

To open the IEWSPR we are planning for a number of baseline briefings which will be used as background for the review. These baseline briefings should be designed to present the role a service or agency will play in providing intelligence support to the commander who must fight the AirLand Battle at division, corps, and echelons above corps. The Central Intelligence Agency plays a major role in those efforts. Therefore, I invite you to attend the IEWSPR and present the CIA baseline briefing. I am also inviting the Navy, NSA/CSS, DIA, and the Air Force to present such a briefing.

The point of contact for the IEWSPR is Colonel John F. Phelps, AUTOVON 879-3162/3166. Colonel Owen H. (Sandy) Knox, AUTOVON 256-3022/2406, will be the coordinator for baseline briefings presented at the IEWSPR.

Sincerely,

JWB
JOHN W. VESSEY, JR.
